We will notify you of the cost involved and you may choose to withdraw or modify your request at that time before any cost is incurred.

Right to Request Restrictions. You have the right to request a restriction or limitation on the medical information we use or disclose about you for treatment, payment or health care operations. We will notify you if we do not agree to a requested restriction.

At the time of registration, you will be requested to provide one mailing address and one phone number which are acceptable to you for receiving communications from us. You may request a change to your confidential communications address and phone number by submitting a written request to the hospital, clinic, doctor’s office, or other health care entity. We will not ask you the reason for your request. We will accommodate reasonable requests. Your request must specify how or where you wish to be contacted.

YOUR RIGHTS REGARDING MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU

You have the following rights regarding medical information we maintain about you:

Right to Inspect and Copy. You have the right to inspect and obtain a copy of medical information used to make decisions about your care. Usually, this generally includes medical and billing records. We may also disclose medical information to lawyers or consultants who are providing services to a health care entity listed on this Notice of Privacy Practices or a related entity regarding a legal or regulatory matter.

Lawsuits and Disputes. If you are involved in a lawsuit or a dispute, we may disclose medical information about you in response to a court or administrative order. Uses and Disclosures Which Require the Opportunity to Agree or Object. Under the Privacy Rules, we are permitted to use and disclose your health information without your authorization when you are informed in advance of the use and disclosure and have the opportunity to agree, object, or limit the use or disclosure. Unless you advise us of your objection to these uses, we will assume that the use of your personal health information, as described in this section of the Notice of Privacy Practices, is acceptable to you.

Hospital Directory. We may include certain limited information about you in the hospital directory while you are a patient at the hospital so your family and friends can visit you in the hospital and generally know how you are doing. This information includes your name, location in the hospital, and your general condition (e.g., good, satisfactory, critical, etc.). The directory information may be released to people who ask for you by name; unless you specifically request that we do not include you in the hospital directory. Additionally, your religious affiliation, if you provide it to us at registration, may be given to a minister of your faith even if they do not ask for you by name. All these entities, sites and locations follow the terms of this Notice of Privacy Practices. In addition, these entities, sites and locations may share medical information with each other for treatment, payment or health care operations purposes described in this Notice of Privacy Practices.

OUR PLEDGE REGARDING MEDICAL INFORMATION:

We understand that medical information about you and your health is personal. We are committed to protecting medical information about you. We create a record of the care and services you receive at this health care entity to provide you with quality care and to comply with certain legal requirements. This Notice of Privacy Practices applies to all of the records of your care generated by this entity, whether made by entity personnel or your personal doctor. Unless your personal doctor is a member of a physician group listed at the beginning of this Notice of Privacy Practices, your personal doctor may have different policies or notices regarding the doctor's use and disclosure of your medical information created in the doctor's own office or clinic.

This Notice of Privacy Practices will tell you about the ways in which we may use and disclose medical information about you. We also describe your rights and certain obligations we have regarding the use and disclosure of medical information.

We are required by law to keep private medical information that identifies you; give you this notice of our legal duties and privacy practices with respect to medical information about you; and follow the terms of the Notice of Privacy Practices currently in effect.

HOW WE MAY USE AND DISCLOSE MEDICAL INFORMATION ABOUT YOU.

The following categories describe different ways that we use and disclose medical information. For better understanding, we have provided some examples in each category. Not every use or disclosure in a category will be listed. However, all of the ways we are permitted to use and disclose information will fall within one of the categories.

General Uses and Disclosures That May Be Made Without Authorization or Without an Opportunity to Object. Under the Privacy Rules, we are permitted to use and disclose your health information for the following purposes, without obtaining your permission or authorization:

For Treatment. We may use medical information about you to provide you with medical treatment or services. We may disclose medical information about you to doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students, students in other health care fields, or other personnel who are involved in taking care of you. For example, a doctor treating you for a broken leg may need to know if you have diabetes because diabetes may slow the healing process. In addition, the doctor may need to tell the dietitian if you have diabetes so that we can arrange for appropriate meals. Different departments of the health care entity also may share medical information about you in order to coordinate the different things you need, such as prescriptions, lab work and x-rays. We may disclose medical information about you to people outside the entity who may be involved in your medical care after you leave the entity, such as family members assisting you or other health care providers, such as nursing homes, home health care agencies, or medical equipment providers. We also may use your medical information to contact you to check that you are progressing in your recovery. In addition, if you receive treatment from an entity that participates in a Health Information Exchange, we will share your health information with the Health Information Exchange. Other healthcare providers who are not affiliated with the above listed entities may access your health information through these health information exchanges as part of your treatment. Contact the Corporate Privacy and Security Officer at Baptist Memorial Health Care Corporation, 350 N. Humphreys Blvd., Memphis, TN 38120 for questions or concerns.

For Payment. We may use and disclose medical information about you so that the treatment and services you receive at this entity may be billed to and payment may be collected from you, an insurance company or a third party. For example, we may need to give your health plan information about surgery you received so your health plan will pay us or reimburse you for the surgery. We may also tell your health plan about a treatment you are going to receive to obtain prior approval or to determine whether your plan will cover the treatment. We may share your information with other health care providers who treat you, such as an ambulance service or a physician who serves as a consultant during your treatment.

Note on the Right to Request a Restriction. You have the right to request that we do not file a visit with your insurance company. However, there are certain limits on that right: 1) You must pay out-of-pocket for the full cost of the visit. If we cannot unbundle the visit from other services, you will need to pay in full for the entire bundle of services, 2) You will have to pay each provider who would otherwise have the right to bill insurance for the services they provided to you, 3) If the final amount of charges cannot be calculated during the time of your visit, you will be asked to pay an estimated amount at the time of the visit and any difference between the final and estimated amount when the final amount is known. If you fail to pay the difference between the final and estimated amount, then we have the right to file the claim with your insurance company. To restrict a disclosure of protected health information to a health plan for item(s) or service(s) paid out-of-pocket, you must make that request at the time of the visit to the hospital, clinic, doctor's office, or other health care entity providing the services listed on page one of this Notice of Privacy Practices.

For Health Care Operations. We may use and disclose medical information about you for this entity's operations and the collective operations of the entities covered by this Notice of Privacy Practices. These uses and disclosures are necessary to run the entity and make sure that all of our patients receive quality care. For example, we may use medical information to review our treatment and services and to evaluate the performance of our staff in caring for you. We may also combine medical information about our patients to decide what additional services we should offer, what services are not needed, and whether certain new treatments are effective. We may also disclose information to doctors, nurses, technicians, medical students, students in other health care fields, and other personnel for review and learning purposes. We may also combine the medical information we have with medical information from other health care providers to compare how we are doing and see where we can make improvements in the care and services we offer. We may remove information that identifies you from this set of medical information so others may use it to study health care and health care delivery without learning who the specific patients are. We may also use and disclose your medical information when providing customer service, responding to complaints and appeals, providing case management, care coordination, employee health services, conducting medical review of claims and other quality assessment and improvement activities, conducting internal training programs for supervisory purposes, teaching health professionals, and activities associated with licensing and issuance of credentials for our staff.

Group Health Plan Disclosures. We may disclose your PHI to a sponsor of a group health plan, such as an employer or other entity that is providing a health care program to you. We can disclose your PHI to that entity if they have contracted with us to administer your health care program on their behalf.

As Required By Law. We will disclose medical information about you when required to do so by federal, state or local law, including with the Department of Health and Human Services.

Health Information Exchange. Many facilities participate in one or more health information exchanges. A health information exchange facilitates sharing of information among health care organizations such as hospitals, clinics, health plans and state or federal- mandated reporting organizations. This facility may also participate in a health information exchange that allows for the sharing of information between hospitals, doctors, and health plans.

Photographs. We may photograph patients, including newborn babies, for security and identification purposes. In certain circumstances, we may take photographs to document wounds, changes in wound healing, or for other treatment related purposes.

Patient Satisfaction Surveys. We may use a limited amount of information about you to conduct patient satisfaction surveys by telephone and written communications, including email. If you do not want to receive a patient satisfaction survey, you need to let us know by calling 1-877-BMH-TIPS and choosing Option 3.

Patient Reunions. Baptist currently sponsors reunions each year for various patient groups, such as Transplant and Neonatal Intensive Care Unit graduates, to celebrate their successes. If you are a graduate of these programs, or similar programs, we may use your information to contact you and invite you to the reunions.

Health Awareness Materials. We may use your demographic information to send general health information to you to create awareness in the community of important health topics.

Health Fairs/Screenings. We may use your information to contact you with the results of any screenings that are not available on the day of the health fair/screening. We may keep a copy of your screenings to verify that you received screenings at a health fair.

Personal Representatives. If you have an advance directive, such as a Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care, or if a court has appointed a guardian for you, we will share information regarding your treatment with your personal representative unless we believe that the sharing of information would jeopardize your health or safety.

Appointment Reminders. We may use and disclose your information to contact you as a reminder that you have an appointment for medical care. This practice includes contacting you by mail, telephone, email, text message, or through the MyChart patient portal.

Treatment Alternatives. We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about or recommend possible treatment options or alternatives that may be of interest to you. This includes reviewing your medical information to see if you meet the criteria to be eligible to participate in clinical trials.

Health-Related Benefits and Services. We may use and disclose medical information to tell you about health-related benefits or services that may be of interest to you.

Fund Raising Activities. We may use your demographic information and other limited information, including dates of service and department of service, to contact you in an effort to raise money for any of the entities covered by this Notice of Privacy Practices and their operations. We may disclose information to a foundation related to the entity so that the foundation may contact you in raising money for the entity. If you do not want the foundation to contact you for fund raising efforts, you must notify Baptist Memorial Health Care Foundation by calling 1-800-895-4483.

Email. If you provide us with an email address, we may use that email address to contact you for any general communications, such as appointment reminders, patient reunion invitations, patient satisfaction surveys, health awareness materials, etc.

Research. Under certain circumstances, we may use and disclose medical information about you for records-based research purposes. For example, a research project may involve comparing the health and recovery of all patients who received one medication to those who received another, for the same condition. All research projects, however, are subject to a special approval process, using an Institutional Review Board (IRB). This process evaluates a proposed research project and its use of medical information, trying to balance the research needs with patients' need for privacy of their medical information. Before we disclose medical information contained in medical records to a researcher, the project will have been approved through this research approval process and the researcher will have submitted a plan to protect the confidentiality of patient information. We may also contact you about eligibility to participate in a clinical trial.

To Avert a Serious Threat to Health or Safety. We may use and disclose medical information about you when necessary to prevent a serious threat to your health and safety or the health and safety of the public or another person. Any disclosure, however, would only be to someone able to help prevent the threat.

Business Associates. We may disclose your protected health information to third party "business associates" that perform various activities (e.g. billing, insurance, release of information services) for or on our behalf. Our business associates may use, disclose, create, receive, transmit or maintain protected health information during the course of providing services to us. Business Associates are also required to protect your protected health information under HIPAA.

SPECIAL SITUATIONS

We are allowed or required by law to share your information in other ways. We have to meet certain conditions set forth in the law before we can share your information for these purposes.

Organ and Tissue Donation. If you are an organ donor, we may release medical information to organizations that handle organ procurement or organ, eye or tissue transplantation or to an organ donation bank, as necessary to facilitate organ or tissue donation and transplantation.

Access by Parents. Some state laws concerning minors permit or require disclosure of protected health information to parents, guardians, and persons acting in a similar legal status. We will act consistently with the law of the state where the treatment is provided and will make disclosures following such laws.

Military and Veterans. If you are a member of the armed forces, we may release medical information about you as required by military command authorities. We may also release medical information about foreign military personnel to the appropriate foreign military authority.

Workers' Compensation. We may release medical information about you for workers' compensation or similar programs. These programs provide benefits for work-related injuries or illness.

Medical Surveillance of the Workplace. If you are an employee who is being evaluated at the request of your employer for medical surveillance of the workplace or in relation to a work-related illness or injury, we may share information obtained from such evaluation with your employer.

Public Health Risks. We may disclose medical information about you for public health activities. These activities generally include the following: to prevent or control disease, injury or disability; to report births and deaths; to report suspected child or adult abuse or neglect; to report reactions to medications or problems with products; to notify people of recalls of products they may be using; to notify a person who may have been exposed to a disease or may be at risk for contracting or spreading a disease or condition; to notify the appropriate government authority if we believe a patient has been the victim of abuse, neglect or domestic violence. We will only make this disclosure if you agree or when required or authorized by law.
